Department of History Daylong Trip to Washington, D.C. to museums such as the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum, the National Gallery of Art, the Museum of the American Indian, and the Smithsonian Institution

The Department of History is offering a daylong museum excursion to Washington D.C., on Saturday, September 10, led by professors Dr. Anthony R. Santoro, Dr. Mario D. Mazzarella and Dr. Belle Pendleton from the Department of Fine Art and Art History.

A charter bus departs from the Freeman Center at 6:45 a.m. and returns to the campus between 8:30 p.m. and 9:00 p.m. The trip is open to all CNU students, faculty, and staff, as well as other travelers. Visits may be made to such institutions as the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, the National Gallery of Art, the Museum of the American Indian and, perhaps, one of the Smithsonian museums. The National Islamic Center may also be one of the sites that can be visited.

The cost of the trip is $40 payable in advance (check or currency) to the CNU Department of History. Space is limited and advance reservations are necessary. Lunch in the capital and dinner on the way home in Fredericksburg are at travelers own expense. Allow about $7 for lunch and $12 - $13 for dinner.

For further information contact Ms. Jennifer Fitzpatrick in the Department of History office at (757) 594-7567 telephone or by email to jennifer.fitzpatrick@cnu.edu or contact Dr. Santoro directly @ santoro@cnu.edu or by telephone (757) 594-7709
