Dear CNU Employees,

For the fourth year in a row, our CNU Community is coming together to help alleviate hunger on the VA Peninsula through the CNU Food for Thought Campaign. We have a little over a week left to collect as much food and money as possible, all of which will be donated to the Foodbank of the VA Peninsula. There is still time to organize your office or department and make a significant contribution!

The Food for Thought Finale is next Wednesday November 2nd from 11am - 4pm. At that time, all CNU offices and departments are asked bring everything collected to the Tribble Courtyard where it will be weighed, sorted, boxed, and loaded onto the foodbank truck. One of our big slogans is, "At the foodbank, one dollar buys five pounds of food." Even small cash donations go really far since the foodbank buys in bulk. Checks should be made out to The Foodbank of the VA Peninsula.

Attached is a copy of the 'rules' for the Weight of Hunger Challenge, including a list of the most requested food items. Thanks so much for your support of this important campus initiative.

Sincerely,

CNU's Center for Community Engagement and the Office of Human Resources
