

BORGENICHT FELLOWSHIP PRIZE

Compete for the
$1,000 AWARD!!

Do you have great research, writing, and/or creative skills?
Are you interested in human rights, genocide studies and/or conflict resolution? If you answered YES, then this competition is FOR YOU!

The Reiff Center is pleased to announce our second annual $1,000 Borgenicht Fellowship Prize for the best scholarly or creative student project proposal(s) related to the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and peace process. The fellowship is named for the late Louis Borgenicht, author of The Happiest Man, which prophesied the need for rapprochement and peace between Arabs and Jews. Awardees must send a progress report to the Center's director after a period of time determined by the awardee and director. A final product (publication, exhibition, etc.) is expected.

Finished projects must be completed by December 2, 2016.

Please use the link to submit your project: <http://cnu.edu/reiffcenter/forstudents/>. Contact Dr. Tatiana Rizova with questions.

Proposals need to include (not to exceed 3 pages):

- * Abstract: Please provide a short project description (250-500 words).
- * Objectives: What are the objectives of your study? What questions are you hoping to answer? Please provide your research questions/objectives and an outline of your project.
- * Plan: How will you approach your project? What is your plan of action? Please provide a tentative timetable and descriptions of what resources you will use, travel (if applicable) etc.
- * Outlets: How and where will you present your findings? Please discuss your plans for future research, writing, presentation, and/or submission to a journal or conference of your research.
