

Tidal Space(s)
11th annual conference for the International Association for the Study of Environment,
Space, and Place
April 17-19, 2015
Christopher Newport University

Friday, April 17, 2015 Luten Hall Atrium, 3rd Floor
7:30am-5:00pm Registration &
7:30-8:30 Coffee and light pastry
8:10 Welcoming Remarks: Dean Lori Underwood

8:30 -10:30am

“Littoral Spaces, Anchorages, and Port Cities in the Maps of Herman Moll”
Alex Zukas, National University

“The Ebb & Flow of Development Assistance: Gender NGOs and other Feminist Networks in Zimbabwe”
Lorna Lueker Zukas, National University

“Tidal Spaces...of the Mind”
John Scott, Memorial University

10:45-12:15
Session 2
Human Construction against the Tides

Polders, Fens, & Marais
Christine Petto, Southern Connecticut State University

The Atlantic Wall and the Militarization of Tidal Spaces
Seth Binsted, SUNY Stony Brook

Construction against the tides-Deep-water port projects at the German North Sea coast-dealing with economic and ocean tides in shallow waters
Ingo Heidbrink, Old Dominion University

12:15-1:30 Lunch

1:45-3:15
Session 3 “Managing the Flow of Change”

Bridging Past and Present: The Cultural Landscapes of Antietam National Battlefield
John C Finn, Christopher Newport University
Elexus Buckner, Christopher Newport University

The Lost Towns of Salamonie: Seasonal Flooding, Flood Control, and the Modern Transformation of the Wabash Drainage Area
Jeffrey Webb, Huntington University

Building Better Meadowlands: A GIS Analysis of Industrial Development in the Hackensack Meadowlands
Cheryl Hendry, Montana State University

3:15-3:25 Coffee break

3:25-4:55
Session 4 Responsible Ebb & Flow

Ephemeral Spaces Calling me into Question: Responding to the Spirit of the Tide
Kip Redick, Christopher Newport University

Totality and Tidal Spaces: A Theology of Wilderness
Caroline Redick, Lee University

Outdoor adventure in the Age of STEM; Bringing Students to the Shores of the Unknown
Kelly Garner

5:00-6:00 Voicing the Tides, Estuarine Poetry: Jay Paul, Trevor Hoag, and Kip Redick

6:30 Group Dinner

Saturday April 18, 2015
8:00-9:00 Coffee and light pastry

9:00-10:30
Session 5 Ebb and Flow on Global Scale

"The Place-Based Ethics of Sustainability"
Redefining Health: A Place-based Response to the Global Food Economy
Andria Timmer, Christopher Newport University

Imagination in Place-Based Environmental Ethics
Jason Matzke, Mary Washington University

Oil, Conflict and Sustainable Development in Nigeria
James Olusegun Adeyeri, Lagos State University

10:30-10:40 Coffee Break

10:40-12:10

Session 6 Ebb & Flow of Being

Phenomenology of the Beach

John Murungi, Towson University

Tides of Power: No Borders, No Resistance, No Alterity

Natasha Lushetich University of Exeter

The Impossible Coming Wave: traversing the Tidal Space between Life & Death

Trevor Hoag, Christopher Newport University

Lunch 12:10 -1:25

1:30-3:00

Session 7 Turing the Tides

Guerrilla Gardening & public Space-making in Montréal, Canada: Ephemeral Spaces as a Ground for Humility Driven Public Space Infrastructure

Vladimir Mikadze, McGill University

Taxonomies of the Arts and the Performing Arts

Sallie Hambright-Belue Clemson University

D. Travers Scott

Silver Stream, Ocean and What is In-between

Richard L. Wilson University of Maryland, Baltimore County

3:00-3:10 Coffee Break

3:10-4:40

Session 8 The Ebb & Flow of Action, Agency and Change

Tidal Flux in Plato

Elizabeth Jelinek, Christopher Newport University

On the Geological Agency of Winds & Tides

Peter Nekola, The Newberry Library

Terrestrial, Extraterrestrial, and Interstellar Tidal Spaces

Joseph Tatarewicz, University of Maryland, Baltimore County

4:40-4:50 Break

4:50-6:20

Session 9 Nature's Ebb & Flow

Drowned Karst, glass-bottom boats, mermaid shows, and other architectural stories from Florida's Nature Coast

Charlie Hailey, University of Florida

The Mosel River and the 'Golden Triangle'

Troy Paddock, Southern Connecticut State University

Mountains, Coastlines, and Migrations: The Tidal Pull of Virginia Space and Place in the Emergence of Conservative Religious Politics.

Mary Bathory Vidaver, Harvard University

6:30-7:15 Business meeting