The Public History Center presents:

‘Scotland's Vote for Independence: Why History Matters Today’

Will the UK lose Scotland? Join us on the evening of the big vote!

The new CNU Public History Center will host a panel discussion on Thursday, September 18 at 6 PM in the Ferguson Center for the Arts Music & Theatre Hall.

Featured CNU panelists include:

Dr. Thomas Hall, Associate Professor of Finance and Economics

Dr. Amanda Herbert, Assistant Professor of History

Dr. Quentin Kidd, Vice Provost and Professor of Government

Moderator: Dr. Sheri Shuck-Hall, Director of the Public History Center

Panelists will address arguments in favor and against Scottish independence, and how history has been applied in debates leading up to the final vote. The election will be historically significant, whatever the result.

The event is free and open to the public.

Co-Sponsored by the Department of History at CNU

For questions about this event, please contact Dr. Sheri Shuck-Hall at sheri.shuckhall@cnu.edu or Dr. Thomas Hall at thomas.hall@cnu.edu
