

Susan Barber <sbarber@cnu.edu>

The Doctors of Nazi Germany

1 message

Announcement-Do Not Reply

Thu, Apr 3, 2014 at 8:51

<announcement@cnu.edu>

AM

To: faculty <faculty@cnu.edu>, employees <employees@cnu.edu>

Thursday, April 3, 2014, at 1 p.m. on WHRV-FM 89.5

In the late 19th century, German medical practices were considered to be the best in the world. But by the start of World War II, German physicians were directly involved in the mass killings of the Holocaust. After the war, a number of these physicians were tried for war crimes in Nuremberg. Hitler's personal physician, Karl Brandt, was the lead defendant in what was called the "Doctors' Trial."

Don't miss this insightful interview with Dr. Theodore Reiff, who says Brandt had been a talented young doctor with ambitions of joining Nobel Peace Prize winner Albert Schweitzer at his hospital in Africa. Ultimately, Brandt was subverted by the Nazis and rose to become one of the most power figures of the Third Reich.

Visit cnu.edu/reiffcenter or <http://withgoodreasonradio.org/> for more information.