

Christopher Newport University

2014-15 Dean William Parks Colloquia

Nicholas DiPasquale is the Director of the Chesapeake Bay Program with the US Environmental Protection Agency. He has expertise in water resources, environmental policy, environmental impact assessment, sustainable development and many other topics. He enjoys hiking, kayaking and bird watching.

Samantha Watterson is an Environmental Management Fellow at the Chesapeake Bay Program Office. She graduated from Christopher Newport University with a degree in Biology Magna Cum Laude. She is passionate about the environment and social justice. She is especially interested in environmental education.

Wednesday, October 15

Multidisciplinary Nature of Environmental Leadership

4:30 p.m.

Gaines Theater, Freeman Center

Free and open to the public

Careers with the EPA & Chesapeake Bay Program

3 p.m.

Harrison, David Student Union

Open to students and faculty

This lecture is co-sponsored by the Office of Sponsored Programs and CNU Green Team.