We would like to invite you to the first installment of the Dean William Parks 2011-12 Colloquium Series, "At the Intersection of Art & Science," on Thursday, September 15th, at 4 p.m. in the Tribble Library Blechman Room.

Mary Sellen, the University librarian, will provide an overview of the current Mariners' Museum Library exhibition of artifacts that illustrate cosmography, technology, and biology in the 15th-19th centuries. Following the talk, the Mariners' Museum Library will be open to visit the exhibition. Refreshments will be served.

Deanna Carpenter, Ph.D.

Assistant Professor, Dept. of Psychology

Director, Major in Interdisciplinary Studies
