Out of 1,100 schools, Christopher Newport is the only public university in the nation to be awarded a perfect "A" by the American Council of Trustees and Alumni (ACTA), honoring our commitment to a rigorous core curriculum that requires courses in American history/government, mathematics, natural science, foreign language, composition, literature and economics.

"CNU's faculty and leadership used great professional judgment to define what it means to be college educated and what it means to be a graduate of CNU," says Dr. Michael Poliakoff, Director of the 2014-15 edition of What Will They Learn? "It has set a new paradigm for public higher education, proving that an institution can strengthen its graduation rates and attract more applications while creating a thorough and rigorous education for all its students. Students, parents, and taxpayers can look at CNU as a model that other colleges should follow in order to prepare their graduates for the challenges of career and community."

CNU is different than many other colleges and universities because we care about minds and hearts. Our purpose is to form good citizens and leaders. We want our students to lead lives of meaning, consequence and purpose. We call that lives of significance.

That's why at CNU we study the liberal arts and sciences and emphasize the study of leadership. That's why we have a rigorous core curriculum and celebrate our honor code and speaking tradition. That's why our students perform thousands of hours of community service. That's what makes us special – and that's why Christopher Newport has become a school of choice for outstanding students and faculty.
