Compensation Study Update

We continue to work diligently on the compensation study for all administrative professional, classified exempt, classified nonexempt and hourly positions; however, we are running a bit behind. We originally projected an ambitious report date of July 1, 2012; but, we were unable to make that date. Our apologies for not notifying you sooner.

Please know that we continue to work with our consultant, Stan McKnight and that you are very interested in the results.

Great News!!!

Governor McDonnell just granted state employees an extra day (8 hours) of leave to enjoy during the upcoming holiday season. Moreover, the Governor approved the 2013 Pay and Holiday Calendar which includes additional holiday time as well. For new employees, please note that CNU does not follow the schedule as it is written, but modifies it based on our academic calendar. If you have any questions, please call HR.

NOTICE! VALIC financial representative, Cheri Coleman, will be on campus next Tuesday, July 24, from 9:00 until 1:00 in the Office of Human Resources to meet with any interested CNU employee. To set up an appointment, please call Cheri at (757) 646-2314.
