AttachmentCNU Summer Scholars Program - Summer 2017

It is with great pleasure that I announce the return of the CNU Summer Scholars Program funded by the Provost's office. The program will be an eight (8) week, in-residence, summer program for students and faculty to collaboratively work on a faculty-derived research question. The program will run June 5th – August 4th, 2017, concurrent with the Summer I and Summer II academic terms. Program participants (Student Research Fellows, SRF) will have the opportunity to work with a faculty member and be a part of a community of faculty and student scholars. Several goals of the program are to develop enhanced research and communication skills, provide opportunities to become better acquainted with our library's scholarly resources, and expand inquiry and problem-solving capabilities.

Student Research Fellows will receive a $3200 stipend and an allowance for the cost of housing during the duration of the program. Applications for the program are to be submitted by a student-faculty team no later than February 13, 2017. All applications will be reviewed by a multidisciplinary team of faculty. Announcements of the awards will be made before Spring Break. Student Research Fellows will work the equivalent of 40 hours per week during the summer program. In addition, there will be several organized activities, including seminars and social events, throughout the summer program. If you are currently doing research with faculty, or have an interest in the research area of a particular faculty member, you may want to ask if that faculty member is willing to work with you on a proposal.

Additional information regarding the program and criteria for evaluating proposals can be found in the attached document. This information and the Application form will soon be available at <http://cnu.edu/research/summerscholars/>. Please direct any questions to Dr. Jeffrey Carney (jeffrey.carney@cnu.edu), Program Director.
