Subject: New Center for Director for Center of Service Learning

To: faculty@cnu.edu

Colleagues,

I am pleased to share with you that Dr. Elizabeth Gagnon (who holds a faculty lectureship in LAMS) has accepted my invitation to serve as the new Director of the Center for Service Learning and Social Entrepreneurship, effective May 16. Dr. Gagnon brings expertise and passion to this office.

I know we are extremely grateful to Dr. Roberta Rosenberg for serving most capably in this important role hitherto, and she is returning full time to faculty status from this intense assignment. Dr. Rosenberg has been extraordinarily effective and successful, and many relationships between CNU and the Newport News greater area have been fostered from her tireless work and dedication.

Dr. Rosenberg will continue to direct the curricular Minor in Civic Engagement and Social Entrepreneurship and she will keep her hand in various projects she has helped to launch. Thank you, Roberta, from all of us!

Please look forward to opportunities to learn more about service learning as a supplement to your courses, as Dr. Gagnon over time will be reaching out to you in a faculty development context.

Information about office location will be forthcoming, as we seek to relocate Dr. Gagnon to McMurrin Hall.

The Center will continue to be staffed as well by Mr. Brad Brewer and Ms. Jacqui Mesecher, who remain in their important roles. The Center is still located on the first floor of McMurrin Hall.

Thank you Dr. Rosenberg, thank you Dr. Gagnon!

Mark
